

Leave the Wisconsin "no-call" listing as is. Every time the banking industry gets its fingers into something it ends up causing the consumer to jump through more hoops just to avoid hidden fees, such as the law that changed the requirement to respond to a credit error from 60 days down to 40 days.